

BAUMANN wins BorgWarner Supplier of the Year 2014 award!

BorgWarner is a global product leader in power transmission solutions, such as engines and drivetrains. The Group employs over 22,000 at 58 sites worldwide and generates sales revenues of USD 8.3 billion.

BAUMANN supplies over 30 million coiled filaments every year to BorgWarner (formerly Beru) and has been privileged to include the company among its major customers for many years. Beru and BAUMANN have been working together since 1989 on the coiled filaments, refining them and constantly driving their production.

This year BorgWarner evaluated its 2,100 suppliers for the first time, taking technology, quality, delivery, customer service and cost as the assessment criteria, and presented 10 of them with the "Supplier of the Year" award. The decision is based not only on measurable factors, such as promptness of delivery, price and number of complaints, but the subjective perception of customer service is also a key factor in the evaluation.

BAUMANN was presented with this award for its excellent work in 2014. Mr. Gilman, Vice-President Supply Chain, and his colleagues Mr. Sauer and Mr. Overzier of BorgWarner praised the exemplary achievements of the entire BAUMANN team and expressed their heartfelt thanks to all the employees. Perhaps the nicest compliment for the team was to hear them say that they wished they had more suppliers of the caliber of BAUMANN.

Congratulations go to the BAUMANN team in the BorgWarner presentation

Visiting the coil filament department

Mr. Brett Gilman thanking the whole team

Peter Kühne gratefully accepting the award

CONGRATULATIONS EVERYBODY!